Classic French preserving techniques updated for a modern audience. A vibrant package crammed with every recipe youá??ll ever need to conserve, salt, pickle, and smoke your own fresh produce. Written by Ginette Mathiot and revised and updated by Clotilde Dusoulier of Chocolate and Zucchini. Preserving is an incredibly popular trend in food books and is growing. This book stands out as it includes techniques for smoking, pickling, and making charcuterie, allowing both home cooks and chefs to learn new preserving techniques.

The definitive guide to perfect pastry from the former elBulli apprentice and his destination restaurant in Bali Will Goldfarb showcases a menu of desserts and fine pastry work at Room4Dessert in Ubud, Bali, with an approach inspired by local ingredients and stunning surroundings. In this, his first book, with a foreword by Albert Adrià, Goldfarb lifts the curtain on his creativity, revealing the processes that form the basis of his stand-out desserts, exploring taste, texture, and flavor. Home cooks can master basic recipes with the aid of step-by-step photography, then enter his creative world to see how staples can be turned into stunning masterpieces.

Since its first publication in France in 1969, Fernand Point's 'Ma Gastronomie' has taken its place among the true classics of French gastronomy. It is as celebrated for Point's wise, witty and provocative views on food as for his remarkable, inventive recipes, carefully compiled from his handwritten notes.

This book was privately published in 1969 after the author's death. It was edited and introduced by Patience Gray, who herself needs no introduction to Prospect readers. Echoes of Irving Davis, antiquarian bookseller, publisher and man of letters, abound in her own masterpiece Honey from a Weed. This book is a fragment - he was a man who sought perfection - and yet is complete enough for us to enjoy, and to cook from. He called his recipes 'impossible' because he despaired at substitution, or derogation from the original. 'Macaroni in the oven' calls for the blood of a chicken, other dishes are equally demanding. In the time since it was first written, authentic provisions and materials have become more available, the book less impossible.

A series with unlikely heroes: Monsters that read and Alex, a young boy discovering books and friendship.

James Dean, who died in 1955 at the age of 24, once remarked: For me the only true success, the only true greatness, lies in immortality. These photographs document the enduring charisma of the young actor whose phenomenal popularity is based on only three movies: East of Eden, Rebel Without a Cause, and Giant. 51 plates.

A perfect bedtime book to discover American folktales.
